Program Description :	The Acupuncture Foundations Certificate Program at the Acupuncture and Massage School of Oriental Medicine (AMOM) is a 460-hour educational course designed for non-licensure professional development in acupuncture. This 6-month program delivers focused instruction in traditional Chinese medical theory, including meridian pathways, point location, needling techniques, and diagnostic principles. This certificate program is not intended to lead to state licensure or national board certification. Instead, it is structured to support students who seek acupuncture knowledge for academic, supportive, or integrative health purposes. It aligns with select ACAHM educational standards but remains a non-licensure pathway suitable for healthcare professionals, bodyworkers, and individuals interested in deepening their understanding of acupuncture without practicing as licensed acupuncturists.
